BASE BALL AFFECTS TURF.

BELMONT PARK SUFFERS FROM INTEREST IN NATIONAL LEAGUE STRUGGLE.

Only Keene's Two Fillies Start in the Matron Stakes—Cressina Defeats Arasee—Gowan's New Record.

New York, October 8.—The counter attraction of the deciding game of baseball for the National League championship between the Cubs and the Giants left the grandstand, clubhouse and lawns almost denuded of spectators of today's racing at Belmont Park.

From the talk one heard on every side the idea would have been gained that it was a baseball game that the one thousand-odd persons present were out to witness. Hardly anything except that subject was under discussion, and the telephone office was besieged throughout the afternoon. Interest in the outcome was so intense that a special bulletin board was erected on which a full and detailed account of the game was posted. Jimmy Pickens, a well-known westerner, bet $2,500 at odds on the Cubs with Jimmy Beatty, and this was only one of many large wagers made on the outcome of the game.

Withdrawals reduced the filly half of the tenth Matron Stakes for two-year-olds to a walk-over for James R. Keene's redoubtable pair, Maskette and Affliction. They were dispatched on schedule time and covered the six furlongs journey in 1:20. The slow time excited much wonder among the spectators, because it was generally believed that the renowned Maskette with colors up could not be pulled back outside of 1:15. It was known that in her final trial for today's race the big daughter of Disguise got away from her exercise lad and ran it in a fraction less than 1:10. By the conditions of the stake only fifty per cent. of the original added money of $5,000 was to be paid to the winner on a walk-over, so that in today's race the Westchester Racing Association contributed $2,500, which, with the declarations and nominating and starting fees, swelled the total of the first money to $5,895. The provisions of the Matron Stakes provided for sharing in any part of the purse, although she was a starter and ran second.

The condensed history of the Matron Stakes since 1900 is as follows:

Run at Morris Park prior to 1905. For colts. For fillies. Stakes divided according to sex.

The remainder of the card furnished brilliant sport. Proceedings began with a cracking good two-year-old handicap at six furlongs. It engaged the best of the pick of the second grade of juveniles, including the Statesman, Footpad, Royal Captive, The Gardener, Schleswig and two others. For five furlongs the entire field maintained close order, with the chances of any one of the five leaders looking rosy. Reaching the final sixteenth, however, Statesman drew out right at the end with rare gameness and won going away with a rush. McCarthy's riding of the winner evoked much praise. When he came back in the fourth race, the even superior bit of successful horsemanship on Cressina, the crowd broke into a round of applause, which he acknowledged by lifting his cap.

The steeplechase, sandwiched in between, was contested by a number of fast jumpers, the best of them being Jimmy Lane and Agent. The former, however, was so lame in his preliminary canter that he could hardly stride over a straw and betters took alarm thereat. In a fifty the odds about him had soared from 1 to 2 to even. When the stable lad galloped to the post all his soreness had disappeared as if by magic and the right money went down in chunks. For two miles and six furlongs of the running Jimmy Lane's backers saw no prospect of ultimate success. The lady Tongkin horse, unless Agent, the flying leader, fell down or refused or ran out or did something else equally improbable. The unexpected happened, however, and Agent refused at the twenty-third and last jump, leaving the distressed Jimmy Lane to come home alone. It had taken him six minutes and ten seconds to cover the three-mile course.

It was said that Sam Emery ordered his trainer, Andy Blakes, put to Schuchman, the stable exercise boy, on Arasee in the New Rochelle Stakes in order to get a price. This Mr. Emery was eminently successful in obtaining, although at a considerable loss in wagers. The boy rode Arasee a good race, but he was unable to put up much and so lost by a few inches, a race that should have been won by a safe margin.

Fashion Plate showed his high class by defeating with impressive ease a fine field of older horses at six furlongs. Mr. Knapp's grand youngster dominated the running throughout, despite opposition of the caliber of Brookdale Nymph, Nimbus and Far West. The hottest favorite of the afternoon was Gowan in the last race, whose third start of the week this filly, which was much with difficulty restrained back to her competitors, never left the result in doubt and won cantering in 2:33, which is a new track record for the distance.

It was announced that the Jamaica meeting would be run off as first scheduled with the possible exception of one or two days dropped each week, as is now the case at the local track. The Empire City meeting of one whole week is also an assured fact, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

It is understood that Mr. H. P. Whitney will race a good string of horses in this country next year as well as support an English stable. With more favorable surroundings there will be good opportunities here, though it can hardly be expected that the season will be as good as it has been in the past.

Herman Duryea will also race here as extensively as heretofore. His idea is to encourage home industry and sport until it becomes compulsory to go abroad to enjoy the pastime.

There will be one day's racing at Morristown, N. J., next Saturday, beginning at two o'clock.

The district attorney of Nassau county has engaged the services of Sewitt's Detective Agency to look out for violations of the betting law at Belmont Park. Up to date there has not been a single arrest.

S. C. Hildreth took possession of Angelus immediately after his defeat in the Jerome Handicap.

Ben Ban will shortly be sent over to France, where Mr. Duryea has already shipped several broodmares and will be given a chance over the sticks and across country.

Lawrence P. Kerry, the well-known clubhouse commissioner, has $60,000 to bet on Chanler at odds of 4 to 5. The opinion prevails that the odds against Governor Hughes will go to 2 to 1 before election day.

GOOD WESTERN HORSE IN DANGER.

Martin Doyle is one of the very best of western-owned horses and news of his being afflicted with fever, will be noted with regret by all who love a good horse.

STABLE EARNINGS OF H. P. WHITNEY'S HORSES.

While the Whitney stable did not do badly this year, all things considered, still it fell considerably below its record of $137,694 won in 1907. In large measure this was due to the fact the Whitney two-year-olds turned out disappointingly, none fleet enough to cope successfully with the Madden and Keene youngsters cropping up from the big band with which the stable began the year. In the way of three-year-olds it possessed in Stamina the best three-year-old filly of the year and she was far and away the best money winner. But Stamina failed when pitted against the best colts in opposing stables. Of its other three-year-olds Bar None and Royal Tourist raced creditably, but both were far from being in the first flight of the older horses. Baby Wolf and Brookdale Nymph held their own fairly well and up to the mile Baby Wolf is a real race horse. Quite probably the chief disappointment of the stable was Perscus. In running second to Helmet in the Hopeful Stakes this beautifully bred colt aroused expectations that his subsequent racing did not confirm. To date the records of the money earners of the stable are as follows:

RAIN SLOWS THE HAMILTON TRACK.

Hambridge Repeats and Outstays Reidmoore—Martin Doyle Taken Sick—Horsemen's Destination.

Hamilton, Ont., October 8.—Today's races at Hamilton were run over a slow track. The heavy rains of last night had but little effect on the going and the footing was in good condition except in a few spots where it was a bit muddy. The change in track conditions had but little effect on results, a majority of the races being won by well backed horses. Botanist and Neoskalea were the winning favorites and jockey Musgrave had the nod on both occasions.

There were two handicaps on the program, one the juvenile for two-year-olds and another the Beamsville for three-year-olds and over. Michael Angelo proved an easy winner in the former, while Hambridge beat Reidmoore and Belmont out in the Beamsville Handicap after a long and hard stretch drive. The steeplechase furnished a head finish between Steve Lane and Woodside, the former coming from behind in the stretch and getting up in the last stride. McClain, who had the mount on Woodside, oughed it in the last furlong, pulling over in front of Steve Lane when he attempted to come through in the inside. Woodside would probably have been disqualified had he won. McClain was fined $50 by the stewards for rough riding. The first run-up of the meeting came after Neoskalea won the seventh race. She was entered at $400 and was boosted 200 by L. V. Bellaw, trainer of Little Minnie, which finished second.

The program books of the Havana Racing Association were distributed this afternoon. The book contains conditions for the first ten days of racing and a number of horsemen have already asked for a change in the plans of several of the horses. The association is arranged to sell feed to the horsemen at cost price and also pay all charges for bonding the horses into Cuba. F. W. Gerhardt and Joseph Lennan are the club's representatives. The horses Lennan is racing here will be shipped to Dallas on Monday. The string includes Monte Carlo, Chief Hayes and Momentum.

The Queen City Stable will be shipped to Toronto on Saturday to go into winter quarters at the Woodbine Park track.

Martin Doyle, the star racer of the Turpin stable, was taken sick with fever yesterday, and the shipment of the stable to Baltimore will be delayed for several days.

Word was received from W. P. Riggs yesterday asking horsemen to delay their departure to Pinlicko for a week or ten days, as a number of stalls are at present occupied by trotters. This resulted in a change in the plans of several of the horsemen, who will take in the meeting at Washington next week. At the conclusion of the latter meeting they will go to Baltimore. James McLaughlin is sending all but Arondack, Waponega and Personal to Washington. The latter will be sent to New York to fill stake engagements.

J. B. Mullen, owner of Caltha, protested payment of any money that might have been won by the jumper Dulecan, claiming part ownership in the horse.

Associate Judge Francis Nelson, who has officiated at most of the Canadian races, leaves for England tomorrow. His place in the stand will probably be taken by F. W. Gerhardt.

THE THREE GREAT BLOOD LINES.

Horses That Are Regarded as the Fountain Head Ancestors of Our Thoroughbreds.

In the present state of breeding the thoroughbred is divided into three great families, those of Eclipse, Herod and Matchem. These in turn are the representatives of the houses of the Darley Arabian, Byerly Turk and Godolphin Arabian, respectively. The predominant blood has long been that of Eclipse, but in England of late years there has been much advocacy of bringing back representatives of Herod and Matchem from France and the United States to mingle with and modify the fiery blood of the intensified Eclipse inbreds. In each line of descent there have been great race horses and each has its characteristic virtues and defects. Much has been written by students of breeding problems concerning these great horses and their descendants, but nothing more compactly than the following by Captain Merry:

Matchem was a bay horse foaled 1748 and bred by Mr. John Holme, of Carlisle. He was not trained until five years old when he raced as the property of William Fenwick, of Bywell in Northumberland. He won his first race for the subscription purse of 100 guineas at York, beating Barforth Billy, by Forester, and Bold, by Cade. He won six races without experiencing a single defeat when he was beaten (at seven years old), by Spectator, but beat Dracansir at four miles, a few days later. In 1758 he won the Jockey Club Plate at four miles, but was subsequently beaten by Miraz, Jason third, Feather (favorite), fourth, and Forester last. His last race was in that same year for a £50 plate at Scarborough, in which he beat Foxhunter and Sweetlips. He then retired permanently to the stud, at the low fee of five guineas, which was increased to ten in 1763, twenty in 1770 and fifty in 1775. He was then twenty-seven years old, but got nineteen foals in that year. Matchem's get were on the turf just twenty-three seasons, during which they won £156,067. He died at the ripe age of thirty-three years in the spring of 1781.

Herod was bred by H. R. H. the Duke of Cumberland and was subsequently sold to Sir John Moore. He won his first five races, three of them matches of 1,000 guineas each, and met with his first defeat in a match of 1,000 guineas each against Sir James Lowther's Ascham, to which he was giving fourteen pounds. He then was beaten three straight races by Bay Middleton (twice) and then wound up his turf career by beating his old antagonist Ascham for 1,000 guineas a side, over the Beacon course (four miles), at Newmarket. Herod retired to the stud in 1770. He never got a Derby winner, but got two winners of the St. Leger and three of the Oaks. The best of his get were Any Phenomenon, Highflyer, Florizel, Bagot, Fortitude, Woodpecker and Teianachus. Considered as sires, Highflyer, Woodpecker and Florizel were his best three. His get were on the turf nineteen seasons, during which they won £201,505 in money, seven cups and forty-three hogsheads of claret. He also showed himself a wonderful broodmare sire, getting the dams of Gohanna and his brother, Precipitate, Gustavus, Benningbrough (St. Leger 1784 and sire of the great Orville), Calomet, Coriander, Duncannon (winner of the steeplechase at four mile heats), Imperator, Overton and Wortham. Rubens, one of his sires. He also got the dam of Contessina (by Young Marske), from which is descended, in female tail line, the great Isomony. Herod's greatest feat was his victory against the great Buzzard, in 1787 and he got the Oaks winner, Bronze, and the St. Leger winner, Quiz. But Buzzard's honors did not end there, for from a daughter of Alexander (by Eclipse-Grobian Princess), he got those three great sires, Selim, the Whelp and the Whelp's Whelp. Selim in the order named. Selim got 152 winners of £25,233, beside the Whip and nine gold cups. Castrel was a "roarer" and was very much avoided by select breeders on that account. Nevertheless, he got forty-two winners of £11,726 and six gold cups. Rubens was the youngest of the trio, all foaled in four years. He won seven races out of eleven and, at the stud, became the most popular stallion of his time, getting two Oaks winners and one of the two Thousand Guineas. Castrel died at twenty-six, Selim at twenty-three and Rubens at twenty-five. Rubens got 231 winners of a total of £23,061, besides thirty-three gold cups. His male descendants, more than twenty years ago, while Castrel's line survives through Pantaloon, Windhound, Thormanby and Atlantic in France and Sir Modred and Cheviot in America. Selim's male line descends to us through Sultan, Bay Middleton, Timoleon, Sir Charles and Virginian. Sir Charles heading the winning sires' list as late as 1839, when his son, Wagner, carried off the $20,000 Post Stakes at Louisville.

Duroc, the sire of the unbeaten American Eclipse, which raced till nine years old and lost by a neck the fastest heat of four miles ever run up to that time (7:37.4), was also by imported Diomed. Eclipse got several good sires, the best of which was Medoc, whose line survives through Pantaloon. Medoc's daughters did a great deal towards building up the reputations of Wagner and Glencoe, the two most popular stallions in America between 1845 and 1860. It was from 1860 to 1877 that the blood of Florizel, through Diomed and thence down to Lexington, foaled 1850, had its greatest innings. Lexington outbred all horses of his day, but his excellence ended with himself. He headed the list of winning sires for eleven seasons, no other stallion, either native or imported, being able to cope with him save Leamington; and yet none of his sons were ever better than third on the list—War Dance and he was only for one season. The late August Belmont (who died in 1890) imported over $25,000 worth of fashionably-bred English mares, in the hope of getting some son of Lexington that would equal the father, but all in vain. His best sons were War Dance, Kinzshier, Norfolk and Wanderer. He was a great sire, but none of them being entitled to be called great. The best horse that ever came from his male line was Grinstead, a grandson, which was by Gluroy (Lexington-Magnolia), a full brother to Daniel Boone and Kentucky. He suffered from being a private stallion and all his get were raced out of one stable—Mr. Elias J. Baldwin's, of Santa Anita, California. Had Grinstead's services been accessible to the public, or had Mr. Baldwin sold his yearlings at auction, Grinstead's progeny would have had a much better showing to their credit. The only line of Diomed

MILITARY AT LOUISVILLE.

UNCLE SAM'S MEN TAKE PART IN DOUGLAS PARK RACING AND PROVE ATTRACTIVE.

Zienap Defeats Al Muller in the Chief Race—Sorrowful Scores Her Third Successive Victory.

Louisville, Ky., October 8.—Douglas Park this afternoon had the appearance of a military post, minus regulation army discipline, rather than a well-regulated race track. Soldiers of the United States were on hand in abundant numbers, and they participated in and contributed in a large measure to an afternoon of enjoyable sport. The announcement that two features would be carried in which Uncle Sam's men would hold the spotlight, in addition to the regular six races, served to attract the best attendance of the present meeting. To the blaze race-goers in a race in which a quartet of troopers piloted eight cavalry horses, two abreast standing, was a thriller and the riders were greeted with loud and enthusiastic applause for their skillful horsemanship. Mr. Haught of Company F piloted the winning pair. The half-mile dash, went to Fluzie, ridden by Mr. Billings. His display of riding was not much below a professional's. The finish was a close one, Fluzie winning by a nose from Foole, with Fern only a head in the rear. Some excitement was occasioned by one of the troopers falling and the boiling of Grimes after he emerged from the paddock, his jumping the fence and failure of his rider to get him under control in time to go to the post and be a starter.

Mutuels were sold on the dash and lucky Fluzie backers received $110.70 for each $5 investment. The regular program was a good one and brought about spirited racing. Favorites again fared badly, only one, Merrick, in the fifth race, rewarding con- fidence. The Willard Hotel Handicap, at seven furlongs, which featured the card, went to Zienap in sensational style. The Schulte mare appeared hopelessly out of contention during the first half, but moved up with a great rush in the next three furlongs and, wearing the fast-quitting Al Muller down, won by a comfortable margin. Al Muller holding out long enough to save second place from Lens.

J. Butler, who had the mount on Zienap, carried off the riding honors by steering home four of the afternoon's winners. He began his career by landing the outsider, Alice Baird, a length in the lead over Sempronius in the opener, followed up his success on his employer's Gold Treasure in the next, and then, wearing the fast-quitting Al Muller down, won by a comfortable margin. Al Muller holding out long enough to save second place from Lens.

Barney Schreiber's Sorrowful again showed a sterling performance by his splendid victory after a strenuous drive over a good band of youngsters. Powers, superior horsemanship overcame Duomo had much to do with the victory. The closing race furnished an upset in the defeat of Lady Baldur by Besterling and Mortiboy, the extreme outsiders.

Matt J. Winn, manager of the Empire City track, stated today that, unless a change is made in present arrangements, the opening of the Empire City track will not take place until Tuesday, October 20. Only the income of the local track, last year, Friday being the off day. All the stakes listed for the meeting will be run off as per schedule.

THE NEW ORLEANS RACING VIEW.

"From the expressions of a large number of the unprejudiced here, the meeting will be well attended, and it is expected that by the time it opens every one will be ready to endorse it. The holding company, which is to become solidly organized as soon as the proposition which Messrs. Heaslip and Lazard, practical amateurs, is accepted, will be composed entirely of local people, and positions, insofar as possible, will be filled during the coming meeting by local men. In fact, the sport is to be clean and untainted, with the cellar and the shady sections all opened up and expurgated. Most of it will be too clean to be interesting, but the gentlemen promoting the formation of the new company are determined to chuck every chance of criticism or disapproval from the public, inasmuch as the income of the local track, last year, from gate receipts alone was barely a sufficient amount to pay the purses daily contested, the salaries of the small army of persons employed about the track and other expenses had to be covered out of the sums aid the associations by the bookies and barkeep and program sellers. How expenses can be paid and a high class of racing furnished out of the gate receipts and bar and other privileges when there are no books allowed to contribute, remains to be seen.

"However, the eastern tracks around New York enjoyed a fairly good season. There was not even individual betting allowed there, and danger of immediate arrest and imprisonment prevented even individual betting. Memory brokers operated, sundry nods and whispers constituting the placing of bets; but if the Pinkerton 'bright-eyes' employed by Assistant District Attorney Elder smiled at anything of this nature going on, arrests quickly followed. In spite of this, though, the attendance was good nearly everywhere. People liked the sport, and those inclined to bet were very easily outnumbered by the throng that did not care a hoot about backing their opinions.

"In New Orleans, where many visitors gather during the racing months, racing will cease to be a gambling game, and, as in the east, the sport will attract mainly a sportsmanly, pleasure-loving variety of the genus homo.

"Individual betting will be allowed here. The Locke law, which stopped bookmaking and pool-swing, does not prohibit that, and there is no doubt but what there will be many bets made. But the racing game promises to have most of the disagreeable, dangerous and doubtful features pruned nearly away as conducted here this winter."

EMPIRE CITY AND JAMAICA.

New York, October 8.—James Russell Soley, attorney for the Empire City Racing Association, of which James Butler is the president, set at rest yesterday the rumor that has been in circulation to the effect that the fall meeting at Yonkers, which is scheduled for the week after next, would be abandoned. "I do not know how such a report can have started," said Mr. Soley. "Mr. Butler has never had any idea of quitting. He will keep faith with the horsemen as in the past and the meeting will be run off according to schedule. We have not completed all the arrangements yet, but they will be made public in a few days. There will be some stakes and the full quota of overnight events. The chief features will be the Farrington Handicap, the Arrow Stakes and the Clark Memorial Handicap, which closed some time ago. Empire City is in the game to a finish."

There was another rumor yesterday that the Jamaica meeting might be called off because of a conflict with the meeting at Baltimore. Negotiations have been under way for some time looking to a solution of this question, but friends of "Big Tim" Sullivan, one of the heaviest stockholders in the Jamaica track, said last night that he had no idea of throwing up the sponge. They declared that the "big fellow" stood ready to do his share toward keeping the racing game alive and that he would not countenance a backdown on the part of the Metropolitan Jockey Club. As a matter of fact, few believe that the Baltimore meeting would seriously affect the session at Jamaica, for the reason that there are plenty of horsemen and speculators who would prefer to remain here.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

[Communications without names and addresses of senders will not be answered or noticed; nor will any answers be sent by mail.]

Fred B. Cincinnati, O. The Jamestown track was heavy September 15.

J. F. Z. Cincinnati, O. Having taken the bet, the bookmaker should pay.

A. P. B. Detroit, Mich. Have no information as to the matter inquired about.

J. H. Indianapolis, Ind. There was no Canada wire that day. Debar was a "special."

C. M. E. Chicago. In mutual betting there is but one price and that is the price established by the total of sales.

Geo. G. L. Chicago. There being no place price against Redgauntlet, the parlay was void as to him and in no way affected by his disqualification.

C. H. Chicago. Pinkola mutual tickets paid $14.50 straight and $9.50 place, which reduced to bookmaking terms was $9.50 to $5 straight and $4.50 to $5 place.

Edgar B. Kansas City, Mo. If the bet was clearly on Hawkslight, it was a draw. Hawkslight and Hawklight are both known and bookmakers are under as much obligation in respect to identity of horses as are backers.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Senator Charles H. Fuller, of eighth district Kings county, who was elected two years ago in a Republican district, was turned down for renomination because he supported Governor Hughes in his fight against the race tracks.

Trainer H. M. Mason announced that the racing string of W. O. B. Macdonough, embracing Duke of Milan, Middle and fourteen yearlings that have been broken at Ormondale Stock Farm, would be shipped to the Emeryville track this week for training under his supervision.

Zionia is a notably hardy mare and her running at Douglas Park makes her out to be in her best form, despite her long and strenuous campaigning. There, as frequently in the past over the New York tracks, she has shown conclusively that she is not to be overlooked in any sort of company. Her dam, Alleviate, was also a capital race mare in her day.

It is a reflection on their owner's sportsmanship that such fast fillies as Field Mouse and Mediant were not suffered to do battle with the Keene fillies for the rich Matron Stakes. If such rich and influential men are not willing to sacrifice something for the good of the turf in its present difficulties, smaller fry cannot be blamed for being slack in making entries.

Two more days of racing will conclude the Canadian turf campaign of 1908. Contrary to the case in the United States, it has been a year of unexampled prosperity for the racing organizations across the line. The substitution of the mutuels for bookmaking on the Kentucky tracks and the troubles in New York, sent a small army of bookmakers to Canada and their $100 per brought large profits to Windsor, Toronto, Hamilton and Fort Erie. Unluckily Montreal did not share as it should have done, the betting privileges there having unwisely been sold at a figure that cost the club about $2,500 per day in the way of money that would have gone into its coffers had the privilege not been sold.

Winner—B. c. by Kinley Mack—Janice (trained by E. Gardner).
Went to post at 2:35. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won driving; second and third the same. Statesman, after being reserved in close inside pursuit of the pacemakers, drew out with a rush in the last sixteenth. Footpad ran in forward and persistent contention throughout and is extra good. Royal Captive began the pace and drew out midway of the stretch, tired afterwards, then came again very gamely at the end. The Gardener was sore, but set the pace to the last fifty yards before he tired. Schleswig began slowly and, while inadequately ridden, closed a big gap in a fast finish. George W. Lebolt held on well all the way. Bird of Flight II failed to stay and was outclassed.
Scratched—77397 Wise Mason, 114.
Overweights—Bird of Flight II, 2 pounds.

77517 SECOND RACE—About 3 Miles. Steeplechase. (57965—5:34—6—145.) $500 added. 4-year-olds and upward. Selling. Net value to winner $480.

Winner—Ch. g. by His Grace—Anna Pace (trained by H. Price).
Went to post at 3:01. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won easily; second and third the same. Jimmy Lane ran in distant and seemingly hopeless pursuit of the pacemaker for two miles and three-quarters, then got up when he refused to be passed in the last jump, but striped sore and lame and was not good. Yama Christy was well up throughout and finished a fast going second. Agent led by a wide gap to the last obstacle, where he refused, but got over finally and finished third. Ramrod was beaten early and hopelessly outpaced all the way. Parson Kelly was always a distant trailer. The winner was entered for $1,500; no bid.
Scratched—77040 Economy, 130; 77422 Paprika, 138; 77422 Sandy Creeker, 130.

Winner—B. m. by Watercourse—Carina (trained by F. D. Weir).
Went to post at 3:51. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won driving; second and third the same. Cressina made the running throughout and outdistanced Arasee in the closing drive, but was lucky. Arasee, after being reserved in patient and nearest pursuit, came out in the stretch and could never quite get up but was best. Black Mary, outpaced in the early running, finished with a rush. Queen of the Hills, well up from the start, loomed up midway of the stretch, but tired finally. Ardri was a hopeless trailer and outclassed. The winner was entered for $1,000; no bid.
Scratched—77446 Lord Stanhope, 106; 77451 Mark Antony II, 113; 77446 Dolly Spanker, 111; 77446 Corneob, 101.

Went to post at 4:22. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won cantering; second and third driving. Fashion Plate drew out quickly and won all the way by a wide gap unextended. Stargowan ran in forward and persistent pursuit and was a fast going second. Brookdale Nymph ran prominently to the stretch and tired unexpectedly. Rossington made up ground moderately well, but was outclassed here. Nimbus striped sore and heavily handicapped, showed early speed and fired as if short. Far West was very sore and badly outpaced all the way. East River showed early speed.

Gowan, nearly left through having collided with Cornbold, drew out quickly and made the running by a wide gap all the way never fully extended. Milford maintained nearest and most persistent pursuit, but never seriously menaced the leader. Cornbold ran forwardly and held on well for third place. Golconda seemed unable to raise a respectable gallop.
